FRANCE HAS IT TOO.

Paris, Nov. 1.—A violent storm, accompanied by snow and a tidal wave on the south coast of France, did great damage yesterday. Hundreds of smaller craft were torn from their moorings and lost. Much suffering resulted. The famous Angoules promenade and other streets were a foot under water. Shops in some streets were completely ruined.

Dr. McIntyre M. P.

TENDERED INFORMAL BANQUET

Made a Guest of the Evening By a Representative Group of Vermilion Business Men

Bulletin Special.

Vermilion, Oct. 31.—Dr. McIntyre paid a visit to the town last evening, owing to the short notice given, it was impossible to give our worthy member any great reception. Arrangements were made, however, for an informal supper which was held at the Alberta Hotel, and was attended by about twenty-five of the leading men of the town. After the supper, Mayor Brimacombe as chairman proposed the toast of the evening, "Dr. Wilbert McIntyre, our esteemed representative," to which he coupled the name of Mr. Cameron. Mr. Cameron, in a few chosen words, welcomed the Doctor on the occasion of his first visit to Vermilion. From what had been done during the last season it was easily seen that no man need be ashamed of his representative. He went on to lay before the Doctor the great need of a Land Office here, and also the appointment of a homestead inspector for this part of the country.

Dr. McIntyre, rising to respond, said that he must first make excuses for Senator Talbot, who had fully intended making this trip with him. When Mr. Talbot arrived in Edmonton he found his son-in-law seriously ill and had to remain behind to make arrangements for his care. He then went on to say that it was with very great feeling that he stood before the present gathering to reply to this hearty welcome which had been extended to him. All the more so because the people of Vermilion were the first in the whole constituency to honor him in this way. He was strongly impressed with the prosperity of this town. It was not railways alone that made towns grow, it was individual effort and united effort, and he well knew that the people of Vermilion were a united people. There is no election pending, so he could make promises without being accused of political matters, and he would promise that anything that was asked by a united people would receive his best attention. Further than that he could not expect. It was from the towns on the C. N. R., said the Doctor, that he had had his main support, and he believed that he would continue to receive this support as long as he lived to the best of his ability, and the people saw that the present government were doing the right thing by them. During his last session he had been very careful to watch the business of the houses in order that when anything connected with his part of the country came up for discussion he could be there and ready. One thing he would lay claim to credit for, and that was the naming of the "Alberta Red," which he considered to be of great importance to this country.

The mayor said that while he did not object promises, he knew that the Doctor would do all he could for us. He described how seriously handicapped he was in not having a Sun-Land Agency here, and gave instances of the loss incurred to the town. The question of postal arrangements was also brought up and the failure on the part of the government in the settlement of the boundary difficulty, as the plan of the township had been properly registered, and this is causing great inconvenience to the residents.

Several of those present bore out the statements already made, and after a short recitation given by the mayor in his well known style, a very pleasant evening was brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem and Aud Lang Syne.

We regret to note that Mrs. Hayward, who with her husband, have been a serious accident last evening. She was rendered unconscious by a fall into the cellar, and Dr. Ryan was hurriedly called on. We are glad to learn this morning that Mrs. Hayward although still feeling badly shaken, is a great deal better, and we hope to see her about again before long.

Arrangements are being rapidly pushed ahead for the establishment of the town of "Winout" on the line of the Grand Trunk Pacific south of here, and the Western Canada Trading Company has already purchased a site for the erection of a store.

Immense Mining Project on Foot For The Lethbridge District

Bulletin Special.

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 1. — F. E. Kenaston, of this city and O. A. Robertson, of St. Paul, have purchased one hundred square miles of coal lands south of Lethbridge and have organized the Canadian West Coal & Coke Co. Their properties include the old Tabor mines. They propose to install machinery at once to the value of about two millions and will work the deposits on an extensive scale. They will develop the market of the two provinces and Manitoba, as well as of the states to the south. They expect to be able to compete with the United States product.

City Council

WILL MEET THIS EVENING

Question of Traffic at C.P.R. Bridge

May Come Up

A special meeting of the city council is called for this evening to attend to the business which should have been transacted at the meeting which failed to take place on Tuesday evening.

One of the important matters that will probably come up is the consideration of the stand to be taken by the city with regard to the traffic facilities for the high level bridge.

It is being pointed out by one or two of the aldermen that if the city is to ask the Dominion Government to provide a part of the cost of putting traffic attachments into the bridge there is now only a couple of weeks in which the request can be made, as, unless it is sent in before the House opens at Ottawa, it could not well be included in the program of the session.

The C.P.R. has its plans ready and R. R. Jamieson has indicated that he will be in Edmonton next week for the purpose of laying them before the council.

Dr. Clendenning, who was in Calgary last week, brought back with him blueprints showing profiles of the plans which the company proposes to submit. The estimated cost of the traffic attachments is $100,000, according to the figures given by Dr. Clendenning by Mr. Jamieson. The presumption is that Stratcona will put up $50,000, that the provincial government will provide $100,000 and that the balance will have to be furnished by the Dominion Government and the City of Edmonton. The question that will probably present itself to the city council this evening is, how much will the Dominion be asked for and how much will the city undertake to pay.

CANADIAN PRODUCE ABROAD

Ottawa, Oct. 30.—Oscar Tripp, commercial agent for Canada in Trinidad, says that shipments of butter from Canada compare favorably both in quality and price with those of foreign countries. Agent Jackson at Leeds says that Canadian apples are arriving in the Yorkshire markets in large quantities and realizing good prices on account of their excellent qualities. The fact that the apples are inspected under government supervision before leaving Canada has given confidence to the dealers, so that they do not hesitate to deal directly with Canadian apple exporters. Arrivals of shipments of Canadian flour have created some perturbation among the Yorkshire millers and they are talking of increasing their mill capacity in order to meet the competition.

Shipments of Canadian hay realize 75 shillings a ton, a large quantity having been purchased by the army depot at New York.

Coroner's Jury

MAKES SWEEPING CHARGES

Attributed Blame to the Constables, the owners of the Property and Dr. Rodrigue

Bulletin Special.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—The findings of the coroner's inquest on the victims of the Buckingham shooting, was along the lines of the charge of the coroner. It recommended that the constables should be sent before the criminal court, that the McLaren's were a gang of bringing the constables in, that members of the mob should be tried for inciting the strikers and that Dr. Alexandre Rodrigue of Buckingham should be put on trial for having neglected his duty in not having taken steps to prevent the trouble. Two of the fourteen jurors refused to sign.

Ottawa, Nov. 1.—The coroner's jury at Buckingham gave orders that Frank Kirman, chief of police, Bailiff Cummings, Picard Ingram and Warner, the latter now dead, special constables, be sent before the criminal court for killing Thomas Belanger and F. Theriault; and that Alexandre, and Albert McLaren, of Buckingham, were also guilty for their deaths in bringing these men to town and should also go before the criminal court; also that Hamelin, Charlot, Clement, Croleia and many others were guilty for accompanying these men and should go before the court. Dr. Rodrigue is said to have anticipated the troubles and should also go before the criminal court.

Twelve out of fourteen jurors agreed. Two refused to sign. The jury was equally divided between French and English speaking.

The Doyle Case

HAS BEGUN AT MORDEN

Doyle Pleads Not Guilty on Charge of Murder. Witness has Disappeared

Morden, Man., Oct. 31.—The Doyle murder case opened here this morning, the whole time being spent in empanelling the jury, some twenty men being challenged to select twelve petit jurors. The entire summoned list had to be called on. At the opening of the court, the grand jury presented a true bill. The prisoner, Martin Doyle, was brought into the dock. The indictment was read to Doyle, charging him with the murder of Vincent Weir, near Snowflake, Man., on the 29th of November last, to which he responded in a clear, steady tone, "Not guilty." Mr. Potts, in opening the case, reviewed the circumstances leading up to Doyle's arrest, and impressed the jurors with the seriousness of their responsibility.

The sensational feature of the trial today, was the arrest of Christopher Foley on the charge of attempting to intimidate witnesses from North Dakota. Foley is a former chum of Martin Doyle. He was locked up in Morden jail. Doyle is accused of shooting Weir to secure possession of a farm which he owned at Mount Carmel, N. D., where both lived. Weir's body was found last spring in the woods near Snowflake, with a bullet wound in the head. It is said that the defence will endeavor to show that the body found on the prairie near Morris but which subsequently disappeared, was not that of E. Weir, and that he was seen in some part of the Canadian West after the date on which the body was found at Snowflake. When arraigned today Doyle pleaded "Not guilty." He is defended by R. A. Ronney, of Winnipeg, while G. A. Stuart Potts, is prosecuting for the crown. The trial promises to be one of the most sensational in Western Canada. The accused is wealthy and intends to put up a stiff fight. The S. C. of Pilot Mould was the principal first witness and stated that the bullet wound through the back of the head, passing towards the front of the brain had been the cause of death. The body which he examined had lain some months in the woods and the face had been almost entirely eaten away by rodents.

Most of the evidence against Doyle is circumstantial and between seventy and eighty witnesses will be examined. The murdered man was an American, as is supposed also. The story of the crime is pregnant with interest. One year ago Doyle and Weller were neighbors farming in the Carmel district of Cavalier County, North Dakota. Doyle's agent made of his time locating settlers in the Battleford district. Weller was a German the possessor of a contagious good nature and an easy-going manner. Weller was a man easily persuaded, and it is claimed by certain theorists that he was induced to cross the international boundary line, where before a strange commissioner had been induced to sign away his farm in the belief that he was making application for Canadian land.

However this may be, it is known that on November 18th of last year, Doyle and Weller crossed the boundary line at Mowbray, where a conveyance was executed by which Weller signed away his farm to Martin Doyle, Jr.

Weller and Doyle returned to the other side of the line the same day, November 18, and were seen together in Mount Carmel during the next day.

The two drove from Dresden to Wales, leading towards Hanna, which is en route to Snowflake. In the afternoon the couple walked out across the prairie and Doyle returned alone to Snowflake. He stated that he had bought Weller's farm and that Weller had gone to LaRiviere and was going to locate shortly at Battleford, and Weller, dead or alive, was seen no more.

Finally friends began to suspect foul play and on January 2, acquaintances of Weller's caused Doyle's arrest on a charge of kidnapping. Doyle languished in jail until January 31, and during that time made an unsuccessful effort to secure bail. Not until April was further light thrown on the mystery, when a gruesome discovery was made. Constable Hanford of the Mount Police, while on the lookout for horse thieves, stumbled across the body of a man lying in a gully near Snowflake. It was a lonesome spot, one in which a foul crime could easily be committed.

The face of the corpse was disfigured owing to the depredations of small animals, but a bullet hole in the head had in silent eloquence of tragedy that had taken place.

Identification was soon effected and it was discovered that the body was once Vincent Weller, the hale and hearty German, who had been seen last in the company of Martin Doyle. For many months the gully had effectively concealed all traces of the crime, but its secret was now laid bare, and the search for Doyle was begun with grim vigor.

An interesting feature of the case is the fact that Ernest Bolton, an important witness for the crown, has disappeared.

INDIANS MIGRATING.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 31.—Rumors of a fight between the troops and Utes in Wyoming are discredited at military headquarters, no advices of that kind having been received. On the other hand a message sent from the front by a courier last night and wired to headquarters today, said that the Indians were peacefully inclined and no trouble was anticipated. A special says the Indians are travelling northward and have already passed the Montana state line.

SOUTH AFRICAN TRADE.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—The department of trade and commerce has received a telegram from the secretary of the Cape Town chamber of commerce through Mr. Kitson, the Canadian agent in South Africa. Cape Town takes exception to the report sent to Ottawa some weeks ago by Mr. Kitson on the condition of trade in South Africa. E. J. Cattel, secretary of the Cape Town chamber, writes that no doubt throughout South Africa, depression in trade still continues, and though at present no signs are evident of any immediate improvement, information is being received of a marked advance in the agricultural and pastoral prospects of the country and it is expected that the effect of this will be apparent on the conditions of the country generally at no distant date. Mr. Cattel says that no large business in existence before the war has liquidated. Many firms and individuals, however, opened up business during the late war and immediately after and it is this class that has suffered most severely since the wave of depression commenced.

Alberta Exhibit

CREATED GOOD IMPRESSION

Interest in the Province Shown by Visitors to Halifax Fair

Mr. H. A. McCaig, who has been appointed director of fairs and armers' exhibits for Alberta, has returned from Halifax, and will commence his duties at once. Mr. Craig represents Saskatchewan at the Dominion exhibition in Halifax. He says the exhibits from Alberta and Saskatchewan created a great deal of interest and attracted the resources of this country as nothing else could. He says the preparation of the Alberta exhibit was super and created an splendid impression. It was typically western and impressed the visitors to the fair. Mr. Craig says he was surprised at the number of questions he was called upon to answer. The clergymen, teachers and business men from every part of the maritime provinces were warmly interested. There were others who, discontented with their lot in the east, were anxious to learn about the good times in the west, and many signified their intention of becoming settlers. Again, there were others who had a vague idea of Western Canada who were surprised at the richness and variety of our resources.

In speaking of the fair Mr. Craig says that the exhibits of fish, minerals and fruit were magnificent and equal to anything that can be produced in the world. The manufacturers' exhibit was also most creditable.

In cattle the dairy breeds comprised the best exhibits, especially the Ayr-

JAPAN IS AROUSED

Washington, Oct. 25.—The exclusion of Japanese children from the public schools of San Francisco has become an international affair of serious importance, and is worrying the Administration. Court Aoki, the Japanese Ambassador, today informed Secretary of State Root that the Japanese Government desired that the treaty rights of the Japanese in the United States be not infringed upon. This treaty gives citizens and subjects of the Japanese Empire all of the rights and privileges enjoyed by natives and citizens of this country, and it now seems certain that in the exclusion of the Japanese children from the schools of San Francisco there has really been a serious breach of provisions of the Treaty of Commerce and Amity between the United States and Japan, which was drawn in 1894.

The Administration finds itself in a peculiarly difficult position, although the case is not at all unprecedented. A parallel is found in the killing of Italians in Louisiana in 1889, when Chief of Police Hennessy, of New Orleans, was killed by members of the Italian Mafia. The men were later acquitted by the courts, but were lynched by angry citizens. Italy protested and demanded satisfaction, but all that the Washington Administration could do was to call upon the Governor of Louisiana to take action. The feeling was so strong in that State that no jury could be found to try the persons implicated in the killing. It was purely a matter of State officials, and the Government in Washington was powerless. Italy was so informed but was not satisfied, and the withdrawal of the Italian Minister resulted. The United States finally paid an indemnity to the families of the dead Italians, although this has never been recognized by Italy as a satisfactory settlement.

The case of the exclusion of Japanese children from California schools is identical. The Government at Washington has absolutely no control and can do nothing further than to call to the attention of the authorities in San Francisco to the serious situation which has been brought about and to ask that they take some measures to remedy conditions.

There is no concealment in Washington of the fact that an anti-American sentiment is rapidly growing in Japan. At the Japanese Embassy it is said that the people of Japan do not understand that the discrimination against Japan is confined to only one locality in the United States. There have been other numerous incidents to which might be attributed the growth of the feeling against America in Japan, but they are all insignificant when compared with the exclusion of the children from the schools. This the Japanese resent more than anything else. They are essentially a child loving race and discrimination of anyone against the Japanese children will find a ready and powerful exposition of distaste and objection.

The protest of the Ambassador from Japan to Secretary Root today was more or less informal, but, nevertheless, it brings the matter up in such a way that something must be done. The Ambassador told Mr. Root that his people at home would misunderstand the situation and he spoke of the feeling already aroused. Through advice from Ambassador Luke E. Wright, in Tokio, Mr. Root already knows of the conditions in Japan, and he is worried about them.

If the facts concerning the exclusion of Japanese children from the schools of San Francisco are as have been reported, there seems to be no doubt that Japan's treaty rights have been affected. The treaty of 1894 deals with the rights of citizens of either contracting party in the territory of the other in its first article. It says, in part: "The citizens or subjects of each of the two high contracting parties shall have full liberty to enter, travel, or reside in any part of the territory of the other contracting party, and shall enjoy full and perfect protection for their persons and property. In whatever relates to rights of residence and travel, to the possession of goods and effects of any kind, to the succession of personal estate by will or otherwise, and the disposal of property of any sort and in any manner whatsoever which they may lawfully acquire, the citizens or subjects of each contracting party shall enjoy in territories of the other the same privileges, liberties and rights, and shall be subject to no higher imposts or charges in these respects than native citizens or subjects or citizens or subjects of the most favored nation."

This paragraph seems to leave no doubt that the Japanese have had their rights infringed upon. By the treaty the Japanese children have the same rights as American children, and Japan appears to have just cause for complaint. Before going further the State Department will get all of the facts from San Francisco concerning the incident.

There is no decrease in the feeling in Washington that if the enmity of Japan should be incurred the commercial interests of the United States in the Far East will suffer to a very great extent.

AMBITIOUS WILLIES

A despatch from Southampton to the Toronto World a few days ago said: "The Conservatives got a good start in the North Bruce campaign this afternoon, a stirring speech by W. F. Maclean, M.P., having aroused great enthusiasm." Continuing the despatch says: "The following meetings are announced by the Conservative committee: W. F. Maclean, M.P., at Tara, Oct. 15; Southampton, Oct. 26; R. L. Borden, at Warton, Oct. 25; Kincardine, Oct. 26; W. H. Bennett, M.P., at Arkwright, Oct. 26; Allenford, Oct. 27; E. A. Lancaster, M.P., at Hepworth, Oct. 26; Allenford, Oct. 27. Considering that the W. F. Maclean referred to is the owner of "The World", the author of the "stirring speech" and presumably also of the despatch describing it, the unassuming nature of the gentleman is quite as apparent as the singular attachment to his leader which expresses itself in relegating Mr. Borden to the secondary place among the Conservative unimpaired in North Bruce. Mr. Borden may find what comfort he can in recalling that the modesty of another William is memorialized in a poem entitled "Myself and Gott."

MR. FIELDING'S REMARKABLE MAJORITY

Hon. W. S. Fielding was returned for Shelburne-Queen's yesterday by a majority of 1,020, nearly three times that given him on either of the previous contests in which he has been a candidate.

The bye-election was made necessary by the judicial unseating of Mr. Fielding on the ground that corrupt practices had been resorted to by his supporters in the last general election. Before the courts had rendered their decision leading Conservative organs displayed a quite unusual anxiety that Mr. Fielding should resign and the constituency be thrown open for a bye-election. It is to be hoped their hunger for battle has been appeased.

In Dr. Weldon we were assured the Opposition had secured an unusually capable man and an exceptionally strong candidate. Taking them at their word we may be allowed to wonder what would have happened had this political prodigy not made his timely appearance and the duty of upholding the banner had devolved on an ordinary mortal.

Making all allowance for the prestige which attaches to a cabinet minister and the alleged inclination of bye-elections to favor the government, the return of Mr. Fielding by this immense majority still remains a signal triumph. As all the arts known to law were employed to open the constituency so were all the devices of the Conservative press brought to bear in the contest. All that could be said to shake public confidence in the integrity of the minister of finance appears to have been said, or if aught remained unsaid, it was because the possibility of saying it did not occur to his calculators. That the reply of the electors to this assault was the re-election of Mr. Fielding by an almost trebled majority is evidence both that the assault failed absolutely in its purpose and that so far as it influenced the public mind at all it did so to the condemnation of this species of warfare and the discomfiture of the gentlemen who employed it.

THE PROPOSAL TO ENLARGE THE CITY COUNCIL

The failure to secure a quorum for the council meeting on Tuesday evening suggests an adverse argument to the proposal to increase the number of aldermen from eight to twelve. If a majority of the smaller number cannot be secured, it is less probable that a quorum of the larger body would turn out. It is true that the failure to secure a quorum happens seldom, but that it happens at all at present, is reason for supposing that it would happen more frequently if the number forming a quorum were increased.

On the other hand it may be true to a degree that with a larger number of aldermen the chances of all sections of the city to be represented would be increased. But in this there is a tendency to danger. To admit the division of the city into "districts" even hypothetically is a dangerous procedure and likely to lead to a vicious condition of internal strife from which we have been heretofore happily free. The city should be managed by a unit, and the concern of the council should be for "the entire city" rather than for "all sections of the city" to treat the city as a body corporate whose greatest good cannot be conserved by protecting the interests of all, rather than a confederacy of "districts" warring for the lion's share of the common funds. The council should be the legislative body of the city carrying out a municipal policy determined by the needs of the city; a policy of proper proportions in which no citizen and no body of citizens shall be slighted and none unduly favored. Edmonton would need to be a much larger city than it is today before it would be necessary to "divide" the city to permit a democratic attention to every part. And under our system of government such attention is or should be by no means the essential factor it is in cities governed under the old plan. With a board of commissioners sufficiently large in numbers, qualifications and authority it is not necessary that the council should be always intimately acquainted with the detailed conditions of the entire city. This is the business of the commissioners.

Another argument made in favor of the increase is that with a larger council the committee work could be made lighter on the individual alderman and at the same time more work done in committees to the economy of the time of the full council. This saving of time and labor it appears to us, could be secured much more easily and satisfactorily by utilizing the machinery already established and throwing more of the work which now encumbers the council on the commissioners. If this body is to fulfill the measure of its usefulness the policy should be followed of extending rather than curtailing the work required of it. If this is done from time to time as the incident suggests the opportunity, the commissioners could soon be made the medium for discharging practically all the routine business of the city, committee work could be almost abolished and the council left free to handle the large problems which will confront the city in endless procession. This council would constitute always of course, a court of appeal from the decisions of the commissioners, and the final authority in matters which the commissioners found themselves unable to settle. To decline to utilize the machinery already existing and seek escape by enlarging the council would be to adopt an expedient to avoid the consequences of a mistaken system, a method which must be repeated as often as the consequences overtake the expedient and which would soon render the council more cumbersome than efficient.

'Semi-ready' dress clothes are the highest expression of art in tailoring

THE best tailor in town makes only 3 or 4 dress suits in a year. They are novelties with him, and their style and making are pretty much an experiment. That is why so many gentlemen look like waiters when they put on dress clothes. The design of the Semi-ready dress suit is the work of a sartorial artist of the highest rank. The suits are tailored by men who do nothing else—they are specialists in the tailoring of dress clothes.

Semi-ready dress clothes are made of light-weight unfinished worsteds. The coat is delicately designed, as the parts are smaller than in any other style. The balance and lines are such as to show the figure at its best. The shoulders are broad yet natural form.

The Semi-ready dress suit is made with a longer lapel, rolling to within two and a half inches of the waist, with considerable convex on crease, and a softened point at bottom of lapel instead of the usual harsh point.

On account of the carefully designed lines, the coat adheres closely to the figure, the skirt is more shapely and sets smoothly over the hips.

The skirts are longer, tapering towards the bottom with slightly rounded corners. The illustration shows these lines. If you wear a dress suit at all, it should be correct in style and tailoring. We would like to show you how impeccable the Semi-ready dress suit and tuxedo are. Will you call in?

A Range That Burns All the Coal

MOST likely you have been throwing away good coal every day without knowing it. Coal that is only partially burned in the fire-box.

Because, with the ordinary range draft, the air current only strikes part of the fire.

Usually the damper door on such a range is situated at one end of the fire-box, which makes your fire hot at the draft end and cold at the other end.

Or the damper is perhaps on the left side of the stove, which makes an uneven fire for the same reason.

You are not only losing fuel, but your cooking and baking is unsatisfactory, for you cannot get a uniform heat.

Now, the draft in a Monarch Range is entirely different.

Instead of one damper door, there are two, one in each end of the fire-box.

These form a double or Duplex Draft, and both are regulated by the same handle.

So you get two direct currents of air at the same time, and your fire burns smoothly and evenly.

You open both drafts simultaneously and shut them off the same way.

The draft striking the fire from both directions consumes all the fuel, and gives you all the heating power from the coal.

When you empty the ash-pan in a Monarch Range, you are throwing away ashes—and ashes only—not coal.

And in addition to this, the Monarch is constructed of Steel and Malleable Iron, which can be riveted so tight and solid that no air-leaks can possibly happen as they do in cast iron ranges.

The top is Malleable Iron, polished and bright. You can keep it clean without smearing your range with blacking which gets on the cooking vessels, to make more work for you.

A $1.00 Cook Book Free

The Monarch Cook Book, written by Mrs. Helen May Thomson, an acknowledged authority on domestic science is a real book, not a cheap circular. Its pages bound in cloth on board covers—a book that would cost $1.00 at the book stores.

It contains 500 recipes, many of them new, all simple, easy to make and inexpensive. Has practical menus for the whole year and many valuable hints on diet and marketing.

How to get it. Cut out this advertisement, mail it to the Malleable Iron Range Company, Beaver Dam, Wis., and tell them WHEN (stating month if possible) you expect to buy and you will secure this valuable book free. As the edition is limited, write now.

Field Day

FOR COLLEGE STUDENTS

Alberta College Students Had an Outing Yesterday

The students of Alberta College held their annual field day yesterday afternoon in the exhibition grounds. The entire student body, the faculty and many of their friends turned out to witness the events. The weather was fine and clear, which greatly added to the pleasure of the occasion. The events were well contested throughout the program and the winners won over strong competitors.

One of the most interesting events on the program and which caused the greatest merriment to the spectators, was the ladies' nail driving contest. Each young lady had to drive a six-inch nail into a stick of spruce. For a minute or so the air rung with the raucous thud of the hammer, sometimes on the nail, sometimes on the fingers of the fair contestants, but mostly on the timber within a radius of six inches around the nail. The potato race excited unbounded merriment and enthusiasm.

The committees were as follows:—Field committee, starter, R. B. Chadwick; judges, Principal Riddell, P. E. Butchart, A. T. Cushing; scorer, Mr. Garbutt; timekeeper, Mr. Sullivan; announcer, O. McLean; committee for apparatus, Messrs. Luck, Lawrence and Randall.

Geo. Oakley sprained his foot in the hop, skip and jump, which prevented him from contesting in the other events.

The following are the results of the events:—

Broad jump—G. H. McDonald, G. Oakley.

Hop, skip and jump—Geo. Oakley, G. H. McDonald, D. Dixon.

Ladies' 40 yards dash—Miss J. Grady, Miss Bruce, Miss Haggith, Miss Steves.

100 yards dash—A. J. Law, G. Oakley, D. Dixon.

Putting 14 lb. shot—McCullough, W. Smith, McDonald.

Long jump—S. H. McDonald, A. J. Law, D. Dixon.

High jump—G. H. McDonald, L. Dineen, H. Grady.

Ladies' nail driving contest—Miss Mende, Miss Steves, Miss Fleming.

440 yards run—G. H. McDonald, H. D. Dixon, A. J. Law.

Pole vault—G. H. McDonald, L. Clarke, McCullough.

Ladies' potato race—Miss Bruce, Miss Weatherbie, Miss Steves.
Mile run—H. Dixon, A. J. Law, G. H. McDonald.

CALGARY HOLD-UP.

Alberta: For daring work on the part of cheap desperados, an act which was perpetrated in the C. P. R. gardens recently, where an aged man named Urbon was knocked down, beaten and assaulted in many ways, then relieved of $28, which was all he had in this world. The victim in the case is old, and to some extent decrepit. He has tilled all his life for the meagre pittance which he had at the time of the assault. It was saved by economy in almost daily needs of life. Economy is one of the reasons that caused him to get into the plight in which he now is. He had thought, it seems, that it would be better for him to go to the C. P. R. park to sleep rather than pay the hotel fees.

Before he went to sleep he was accosted by three men who were not smooth hold-up men. They were ruffians and tried to induce the aged man to go with them. He simply thought of going to sleep and refused.

On his refusal they pounced upon him, knocked him down, beat and abused him, and then relieved him of his money. They left the old man lying on the ground.

He had a friend named Andrew Spralio, who, it seems, also intended to make his bed in the park. On his return to his bed chamber he discovered his comrade lying in an almost unconscious condition. Viewing his companion, he at once became alarmed, rushed to the street and the first man he met was Officer Beaumont. He told his story to him. Beaumont accompanied him to where the prostrate man lay. By this time the victim had to some extent revived and was able to describe his assailants. Officer Beaumont with true police integrity started on the trail, and the result was that at the present time there lie behind the bars Samuel McGrath, Patrick O'Brien and Jas. Murray.

The consensus of opinion in police circles is that the men who robbed the victim are not what might be termed hold-up men. They are inclined to believe that the prisoners were simply looking for money to alleviate an unquenchable thirst.

WOUNDED WHILE SHOOTING.
Bulletin Special.
Toronto, Nov. 1.—Rev. A. J. Fawcett was accidentally shot in the thigh while duck shooting in a boat.

Thinks C.N.R. got Chilly Deal.

M. H. McLeod, chief engineer of the Canadian Northern railway, and R. J. Mackenzie, superintendent of construction, are in town today, having come in over the main line last night in the private car, Dauphin, attached to the regular express.

Mr. McLeod is just back from Ottawa, where he was attending the hearing before the minister of railways and the railway commission.

Mr. McLeod thinks the Canadian Northern got a chilly deal from the city of Edmonton.

"I do not think," said Mr. McLeod, "that the mayor and city solicitor represent the sentiments of the people of Edmonton in their action before the railway commission. I think there is something behind it all. I think they are representing the Grand Trunk rather than the city."

"I do not believe and cannot bring myself to believe that the people of Edmonton intended to treat the pioneer railway in the manner that has been done, practically shutting us off from the business section of the city. I do not think that the ratepayers fully understood what was being done."

To the suggestion that the Canadian Northern had shown itself rather lax in not opposing the agreement before the bylaw was voted upon, Mr. McLeod admitted that that was the case, that they had practically overlooked it, but that as a matter of fact he did not think that the bylaw would pass.

Mr. McLeod made another very important statement:—

"The Canadian Northern will not enter into a union station agreement with the Grand Trunk Pacific if the monopoly privileges are granted to that company."

Mr. McLeod makes this statement off his own bat. He says he has not conferred with Wm. Mackenzie on the matter, but he believes that he will take the same view.

Mr. McLeod claims that the Grand Trunk should come in over another track built on the C. N. R. right of way, and that the question of side tracks into the section south of Mackenzie should be left open, so that either road would have the privilege to build.

That was the case that the Canadian Northern presented to the railway commission.

WHY AMERICANS ARE POURING INTO CANADA.

The Sioux City, Iowa, Farmer's Tribune, in a recent issue has the following to say why the great numbers of Americans are selling out in the United States and removing to Canadian West:

"As we look at the proposition people are going to Canada for the simple reason that there still greater opportunities in that country for making money on the farm than there still in the United States. The large farmer in the corn belt of the United States is selling his quarter, his half or his section of land for big prices; he takes that money and puts it into Canadian land and thereby triples his holdings. He is looking into the future. He has watched the rise of land in his own country during the last thirty years, and he realizes advance in value is sure his settlement of Canadian soil. He is preparing himself to reap a profit by its advancement, and thereby make himself and his posterity rich. There are no people on the face of the earth who value land so highly as do the Americans, and it is for that reason it appears to us, that so many are at present moving onto Canadian soil."

Diamond Dyes

Are Used By All Wise Economical Canadian Women

Failure in home dyeing are caused by the use of imitation and adulterated package dyes which are poisonous to good materials and dangerous to handle. Ladies who value their garments and materials should never risk imitation and worthless package dyes. The colors of such dyes are always muddy, blotchy and lifeless. Storekeepers sell such trashy dyes simply because of the large profits they bring, and care little for the trouble and vexation these common dyes cause to the women who use them. DIAMOND DYES are the only successful, pure, fast and brilliant dyes sold. The DIAMOND DYES have a wonderful record of triumphs and successes, and have no equals in the world for easy and profitable home coloring.

As these are merchants who sell inferior and adulterated package dyes, insist each time you buy that you are served with the DIAMOND DYES. See that each package bears the words, DIAMOND PACKAGE DYES. Send to Wells & Richardson Co., Limited, 200 Mountain street, Montreal, P.Q., for valuable Dye Book and Card of Dyed Samples; FREE to any address.

The C.P.R. Irrigation Project

(From "Canada")

Through the adoption of irrigation in the southern part of the Province of Alberta is but of recent date, its introduction is enabling the settlers of that part to undertake mixed farming with success. For many years stock-raising was the chief occupation of the residents in southern Alberta, the country having been found specially adapted to the outdoor grazing of cattle, horses and sheep. By degrees, however, small amounts of cultivation were undertaken, especially along the valleys and on the bottom lands, and the fact proved that the country, during seasons of sufficient rainfall was well adapted to the growth of grain, fodder, and root crops.

A series of dry years commencing in 1893, turned the attention of settlers to the possibility of aiding the growth of their crops by irrigation, and such effort where ditches were constructed to irrigate small areas in the valleys, that general attention was directed to this method of extending settlement and insuring crop production.

The matter was taken up by the government and a well considered and comprehensive law relating to the use of water for irrigation has been passed. A system of general surveys was then undertaken to determine the source and volume of the water supply available for irrigation, and the location of areas where such water could be used to the best advantage. These surveys developed the fact that two extensive areas afforded special advantages for irrigation, one situated in the Lethbridge district, which could be supplied with water from the St. Mary's River, and the second a large block of land east of Calgary, which could be supplied with water from the Bow River. The irrigation of the latter district has been taken over by the Canadian Pacific Railway, and is now being pushed forward with energy.

The area included in the project comprises a block of three million acres, east of Calgary, along the main line of the company's railway. The soil throughout the whole block is excellent, with heavy black loam or a clay subsoil in the western portion, and a lighter sandy loam with good subsoil in the more easterly parts. The whole block produces a most luxuriant growth of nutritious grasses, and the natural grazing is such as to provide pasture for horses, cattle, and sheep throughout the whole year. The climate is as good as the ground is fertile. Southern Alberta with its elevation of from 1,400 feet to 3,400 feet above sea level has a clear dry atmosphere, and an almost continual sunshine, with mild winters and cool nights. During the winter months the warming breath of the "Chinook" is frequently felt, and at those times the temperature is raised to almost summer warmth. Both soil and climate then offer opportunities of mixed farming unsurpassed in any part of the world. First is the never failing crop of stock, consisting of horses, cattle, sheep and hogs that Southern Alberta produces in a manner which cannot be excelled on this continent. Stock of all kinds graze at large throughout the entire year, and the mild winters, cool nights of the summer, absence of flies or pests of any kind, combined with the pure water of mountain-fed streams, combine to make the ideal stock and dairying country. Meanwhile, the agriculturist produces crops of wheat (spring and winter varieties), oats, barley, rye, flax and of fodder crops, Timothy, alfalfa and bromus, and of vegetables all the standard varieties, including sugar beets, which are an unusually good crop both in purity and saccharine quality. Small fruits as do well, and in time the harder varieties of apples will be produced.

The water for irrigation in the western section of the C.P.R. Co's project is diverted from the Bow River at a point about two miles below the city of Calgary, and from thence is carried south and east through a main canal seventeen miles in length. The water is sent to each man's farm, and he is left only the construction of the small laterals to distribute the moisture over his land. The water for the irrigation of land in the central and eastern sections is taken through a second main canal heading in the Bow River at or near the Horse Shoe Bend on the Blackfoot Indian Reserve.

OUR FLOUR IN JAPAN

S. Tamura, a Vancouver merchant, returning from Japan, where he was assisting in placing orders for Canadian goods, says of the flour trade, that Canadian flour was first placed on the market in Osaka, three years ago, and he considers that in a very short time it will replace the United States articles throughout the country generally.

"Of course," said Mr. Tamura, "we have been but to considerable extent in our efforts to popularize Canadian flour in Japan. As a matter of fact, in order to make its superiority plain to some, we have had to give demonstrations and on several occasions we have sent expert bakers through the country for the purpose. The increase in the shipments sent to Japan will show that our work has not been in vain. Many large firms have placed their orders with us, and these orders will be filled in Canada and sent out on the Oriental liners from Vancouver. Yes, United States flour is largely used in Japan. The Japanese sell at lower prices than are asked for the Canadian article. Canadian flour is darker in color than United States flour and these circumstances add to the difficulty in the way of introducing it. However, some Canadian firms have been very good in assisting me and I feel satisfied that in the near future Canadian millers will command the Japanese markets."

Another difficulty mentioned by Mr. Tamura arises from the fact that United States firms are in a position to fill orders more expeditiously than firms on this side of the boundary line, and for this reason orders which would come to the United States side, Mr. Tamura says that every time his firm receives an order an effort is made to place it in Canada. He says the wheat crop was exceedingly good in Japan this year, and this crop was also better than ordinary.

GAS WELLS AT LACOMBE

Lacombe Globe: While boring for water near Craik, B. F. Browning struck a gas well at a depth of 203 feet. Mr. Browning had great difficulty in getting water and was determined to bore till he struck something, which he did very unexpectedly, the rush of gas being strong enough to blow a heavy board off the top of the well many feet into the air.
